Hello, boys and girls! It's a great honor for me to make a speech here. My topic today is "Less Pressure, Better Life".

Many students are under too much pressure. Some worry about their exams, while others can't get on well with their classmates or parents. My parents send me to all kinds of after-school classes so that I have no time to finish my homework. Here are some ways about how I will deal with my pressure. First, I will have a talk with my parents to help them understand me better. Second, I plan to keep taking exercise after school.

Everyone should pay attention to mental health and learn how to relieve pressure to live happily!

That's all. Thank you for your listening!

Hi, class. Everyone wants to do well in the exam though you work hard every day. Still you need to know something as follows. One, read over the whole exam paper first and manage your time well. Two, when you meet with a difficult problem, think about it for a minute or two. If nothing comes to you, just give it up bravely and go to another problem. Don't spend too much time on it. You may later have time to think about it and find a way. Three, sometimes you may feel nervous. If so, put down your pen, close your eyes and take a few deep breaths. When you feel better, go back to work. Four, if you have time before handing in your paper, check your answers, correct the mistakes you find out and make sure that you can't do any better. Five, do remember to write as clearly as possible.

As teenagers, we're supposed to play an important role in protecting the Earth. First, it would be better to pick up the rubbish and throw it into dustbins. Second, we'd better ride a bike or take the subway when going out if possible. Finally, remember to use cloth bags instead of plastic ones.

I'm sure everybody is able to do something meaningful to make the world better.
